Dear [redacted]

STAT

Your letter to Mr. McMahon has been referred to me for response.

I understand your disappointment and frustration over the closure of the test center at the University of Scranton. Our objective is to provide a convenient test facility to as many applicants as possible. Usually this can be arranged; but where the volume of testing is very low, as it has been at Scranton, cost considerations dictate closure.

I regret the inconvenience and expense our decision has caused you and your fellow students. However, only a sustained increase in applicant volume from your area could support a reopening of the Scranton test center.

Sincerely,

Dear Sir:

I am a graduate of a Jesuit College, the University of Scranton. Since the test center at Scranton was closed recently we must now travel to Washington or Philadelphia to take the 8 hour test to apply for CIA.

We hope that you will arrange to reinstate the test facility. Many U of S students would like to apply but it is expensive to travel to this city to test.

We know that you will be understanding.

Sincerely,
